

UN CONTROLLER VISITS UNFICYP

Mr Debatin and Mr Isaevitch called on the Force Commander shortly after their arrival at the Headquarters in Nicosia.

The Controller of the United Nations and the Assistant Director Offices of Financial Services, Mr Debatin and Mr Isaevitch recently visited the Force to be briefed and to see for themselves that the United Nations Force in Cyprus was doing its job as economically as possible. On their arrival they were briefed by the Chief of Staff, Brigadier H M Tillotson CBE who then took them on a visit to each of the sectors, where they saw the problems facing the soldiers in the buffer zone.

Australian Police Contingent GIVEN UNIT CITATION

The 13th Australian Civilian Police Contingent has been awarded a Unit Citation by the Commissioner of the Australian Commonwealth Police Force, Commissioner J M Davis. Mr Davis visited the Australian Police Contingent last year. It is as a result of what he saw the contingent doing and the conditions under which they were operating that he awarded the citation which reads:

"UNIT CITATION. All members of 13th Australian Contingent (UNFICYP) Cyprus, under the command of Senior Superintendent F S LUTHER. For devo-dangerous circumstances thereby bringing credit not only to themselves but to the Force in general."

IT'S A LONG WAY TO CAPE GRECO

Yes, so it seemed when we just had left Ayia Napa behind us. A ten mile walk alongside the shores of the Mediterranean. That is the Cape Greco March — an event every Swedish Battalion completes. One or two platoons march the distance at a time. They start at Ayia Napa, march to the Cape Greco peninsula in the south-eastern part of Cyprus and finish the march at Fig Tree Bay, which during the sunny months is a very popular beach for the Swedish UN soldiers. The picture (right) is taken on a day in January when the sun was almost summer-like. At the end of the march some soldiers jumped into the sea as a finale to a well performed test.

They came with a song

"Men, Women and Song", that is the name of the Swedish entertainment group which has been giving performances at the two Swedish camps and at some of the OPs during the last two weeks. They also performed at Dancon, Fincon, Cancon, Ayios Nikolaus and at HQ UNFICYP before very appreciative audiences. Every Swedish battalion receives a visit from an entertainment group and of course these visits are looked forward to with pleasure. The members of the group were pictured gathered round a Land-rover during one of their visits to an OP. Ja, Herr ObstltG GSELL, sicherlich haben Sie am Sonntag, den 30.01.77, noch nicht gahnt, daß der alte Schlager "Ich hab' noch einen Koffer in Berlin" in sehr individueller Abwandlung auch für Sie Bedeutung haben wird. Wir danken jedenfalls für die (ungewollte) Story und sehen darin Ihre Verbundenheit in Presseangelegenheiten.

Zur Aufklärung für Uneingeübte:

ObstltG GSELL hatte ein Wochenende in GRAZ verbracht. Am Montag, den 31.1.77, kehrte er nach WIEN zurück, stellte seinen Koffer kurzfristig in der Maria Theresien-Kaserne ab und wollte dann mit seinem Koffer zu seiner Dienststelle in WIEN. In der Zwischenzeit hatte ein UN-Soldat den Koffer in die Rotation einbezogen, und so landete der Koffer außerplanmäßig in Cypern.

CANCON E W S

During the past fortnight, the Canadian Contingent held a major Medal Parade during which the Third Battalion The Royal Canadian Regiment received its UN medals. The occasion marked the mid-way mark in the six month tour for the Battalion. Major General Quinn the Force Commander took the salute and presented medals to soldiers of the Battalion.

Members of the Contingent received two bonuses in the entertainment field in January. The Royal Anglian Regimental Band (seen above) provided a fine evening of entertaining music for members of the Junior Ranks Club; and a troupe of singers visiting Cyprus from Sweden also provided a short afternoon concert. Both performances were much appreciated.

Among the steady stream of visitors has been one who will leave a lasting impression; Canadian artist Bill Johnson spent two weeks with 3 RCR painting scenes in the buffer zone, faces and surroundings in the area to give us all some lasting memories of our tour here.
